-WHEELING, VA:-TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 27, 1858.

READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE.

The Times of yesterday morning occupies about two columns of stale jargon in reference to the Intelligencer. It is not our intention to make many comments on this trash. We can fill our columns with matter which, we think, will prove much more acceptable to our readers. Indeed, to be honest about the matter. we have not read more than one half of the editor's nonsencial stuff. We made one or two attempts to do so, but it was so very dull and senseless, and the day being quite warm, we gave over the job, as entirely too great an undertaking for dog days. We may remark, however, that the editor will have this hands full, if he undertakes to demonstrate to the satisfaction of any sensible man in this community, that the three lines he has placed at the head of his editorial columns are anything but "whoppers," and of the biggest kind. The people here understand that matter perfectly, and it will require more than the assertion of the editor of the Times to satisfy them that the entire circulation of that sheet is equal to that of the Duily Intelligencer alone.

But we do not intend to protract this controversy. If it is such matter as the readers of the Argus and Times relish, we have no objection to make-but our readers are of a different kind; and expecting to be able to survive this and all other attacks from the same quarter, we shall pursue the even tener of our way, regardless of what they may say or do.

THE WASHINGTON STATES DOWN ON HON. JOHN APPLETON.-The Washington States is down upon the Hon. John Appleton, Assistant Secretary of State, and reputed editor of the Union. It says charges are made against Mr. Appleton of corruption, of using his position and influence to put money in his purse to the tune of ten thousand a year, or more, and calls upon Congress for an Investigating Committee to inquire into the facts in the matter, and expose the truth to the public gaze. The charges

"That Mr. Appleton obtains, in addition to the very handsome salary of his office, some ten thousand dollars a year, more or less, from Cornelius Wendell, as supervisory or writing editor of the Union, which Mr. Wendell publishes, and that Mr. Appleton uses his influence with Presdent Buchanan and the members of the Cabinet, to obtain for Mr. Wendell's benefit, the binding of all the Executive Departments, as well as of all their advertising patronage. The law is explicit, and was recently made to meet the case, that the Executive Departments should give out their binding patronage to practical and competent binders, and to none others. Mr. Wendell is simply a printer, but no binder Mr. Appleton and the Cabinet Ministers all know this, and yet they trample the law under their feet and give a printer all their binding patronage to the exclusion of many Administration men in the city who are practical and competent binders, and who have asked to have the binding, or a portion of it, given to them.

THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE,-Mr. C. A. L. Lamar, of Savannah, Georgia, who applied to the Collector of the port of Charleston for a clearance to the coast of Africa, "for the purpose of taking on board African emigrants, in accordance with the United States passenger laws, and returning with the same to the United States," and was emphatically refused under instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, has written a rather defiant if not bellicose letter, complaining of the "abridgement" of his rights, and concluding with the following "Manifesto:

"Under ordinary circumstances I would not violate the laws, I am pleased when I can, to honor and sustain them; but this law prohibiting the slave trade was not adopted by the intelligence, certainly not by the genius of the It is enforced by the sentiment of another and hostile section of the country. It is sustained by persons who have more regard for the people of that other section than the truth. It is a badge of servitude, a brand of reprobation, and not only would I not sustain it, but, as I have told you frankly from the first, I intend to violate it. I will re-open the trade in slaves to foreign countries, and your cruisers may catch me if they can."

AT a meeting of the Managers of the New York Colonization Society, held on the 20th inst., it was unanimously resolved,

"That the charges which have lately been made and disseminated, that the Government of Liberia has been guilty of complicity in the slave trade, or of sanctioning it directly or indirectly, having been investigated to as full an extent as is practicable at this time by the Board, we are entirely satisfied that these charges are wholly unjust and unfounded, and are persuaded that the President and Government of Liberia merit a continuance of our entire confidence.

THE accident which happened on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, at Allentown, Pa., the other day, by which the fireman and engineer were killed, was a terrible affair. It is thus described by the Easton Express:

The train was passing the bridge over the Jordan, which has two spans, and the locomotive had nearly reached the pier when the span upon which the train was began to give way, and sank gradually for a minute or two, and then fell with an awful crash, carrying down the locomotive and about forty coal cars.

GOLD PRODUCTION FOR 1857 .- The production of gold in Australia for the past year is set down by the best English authorities at one hundred millions of dollars. The productions in other countries are estimated as follows;

 California
 .865,010,000

 Russia and Siberia
 20,000,000

 Other parts of the world
 15,000,000

We thus have two hundred millions as the gold crop of 1857, and the actual amount is likely to be rather more than the estimated aggregate. At this rate two thousand millions of gold will be thrown into the monetary circulation of the world during the next ten years.

AMERICAN BIBLE UNION-Important Morenent .- The N. Y. Post of Saturday, states that, on Friday, the 23d inst., the Board was convened at the call of the President, upon the written requisition of six members. The subject for consideration was brought forward in an able report from the Committee on Versions. Rev. II. B. Hackett, D. D., a member of the Final Committee, in the prosecution of his work as a reviser, had become deeply impressed with the importance of spending six months in Greece, in order to mature his acquaintance with the Greek language, in which the New Testament was originally written, as a living tongue. His views upon this subject was seconded and recommended by a number of distinguished scholars, whose names were embraced in the report, among which were those of Drs. Conant, Sonhocles, Caswell, etc.

It is believed that such a measure will introduce into the Final Committee an element of uccess hitherto not possessed by any revisor or translator of the sacred oracles since the carliest centuries of the Christian era. The Septuagint, which has a reputation for exact-ness second only to that of the inspired Hebrew, and the Latin version by Jerome, almost equally celebrated, were made by persons ac-quainted with the originals as living languages. No version in English was even made with such an advantage.

The modern Greek differs in some respects from the ancient, but not in its essential fea-tures. Its grammatical forms have undergone certain variations, but these do not affects its important terms and phrases. Indeed, of late ears, it has been steadily returning to the old standards, even in its grammatical peculiarities.

A scholar, who is familiar with Greek in its printed forms, and who has for many years been accustomed to quote it, will, by hearing the constant application of its terms to sojects of sight and usages still existing, acquire a vivid perception of their meaning, and of the distinctions in their use, which becan never obtain from books. This will be ever present to his mind in the business of revising, and will greatly aid him in transfusing the real meaning of the original into

Dr. Hackett, in endeavoring to compass so desirable an object, submits to heavy sacrifices. He relinquishes the duties and emoluments of his professorship for an entire year, to which the Board of Trustees of the Newton Theolo gical Seminary have consented, in view of the mportance of the object to be attained.

Dr. Hackett will spend the year in the em-ploy of the Bible Union, and his visit to Greece will be at its expense, and the entire results of the year's labors and acquisitions will accrue to the benefit of the Union. While he is absent, his whole time and attention will be devoted to the enterprise, and he will spare no pains in prosecuting the work, and accumula ting the requisite preparations for its comple-tion. It is his expectation to return consideribly before the close of the year, far better repared to mature for the press, in conjunction with the other members of the Final Committee, the results of their labors; so that, in the end, the whole work will be expedited, as well as mproved, in consequence of his visit to Greece.

These considerations were fully discussed in the Board of Managers. The meeting was much larger than usual.

The Board unanimously agreed to the proposition, and, in consequence with Dr. Hackett's wishes, fixed the first of August for the time of his departure, and authorized the Committee on Versions and the Treasurer to make all arrangements requisite in the case.

BLEEDING IN APOPLEXY AND SUNSTROKE .-Doctor Samuel Dickson, of London, who was formerly a medical officer in the British army, disapproves entirely of bleeding in cases of sunstroke, but relies upon ammonia, quinine, and alcoholic stimulants, and the prompt application of cold water to the head. This is upon the principle that opening a vein diminishes the power of the heart, already deficient, while the stimulants tend to restore the circulation to the standard of health. Subjoined is Dr. Dickson's explanation, in a letter of July 7, addressed to the London Times:

"What is the routine treatment at this moment for sunstroke in India? Your own special correspondent pescribes it in your number of to-day: 'The veins of the arm are opened, and leeches applied to the tempels,' With what result? 'Notwithstanding every care, the greater number of cases were latal immediately; and even among the cases of those who recovered there are few who are fit for active service again, except after a long interval of rest.'

"Does this result not suggest the trial, at least of some other mode of treatment? Instead of extracting the material of repair from the system when reparation is most needed, why not apply remedies at once to the nervous system, rithout which the heat of the sun could by no osibility be felt. Twenty-two years ag . I printd and published the result of simply dashing cold water over the head and supporting the worn and fatigued men with brandy and water, in this very sunstroke in India in the regiment of which the present adjutant-general was then olonel. Almost every man recovered. Their convalescence was accelerated by ammonia and

"Within the last few years the practice in England in this very case of sunstroke and anoplexy has been undergoing a change. A few ears ago Dr. Todd, following in my footsteps nstead of bleeding in apoplexy, brought out his new treatment of apoplexy-mild tonics and quinine-from the commencement."

EXECUTION IN NEW ORLEANS .- James Nolan, sentenced for the murder of Capt. John Reno in New Orleans, was executed on the 16th inst. Witnessing the execution there were four other condemned murderers. The Delta

He was dressed entirely in white, without any oat, and around his neck he wore a cruciffx. After the reading of the death warrant and the rope had been adjusted, he addressed those as-sembled in the yard, acknowledging his crimes and thanking the officers of the prison for their kindness. Father Dufau then placed his hands upon the shoulders of Nolan, offered up an appropriate prayer, the prisoner moving his lips as Several then shook hands with him, and just as the executioner was pulling the cap over his face, he caught the eye of Francois Vigoreux, the sailor who is under sentence for life, and said to him, in a familiar manner, exhibiting remarkable coolness, "Farewell, Francois!" Then turning his head, he gave a scarching glance at the masked face of the executioner, as f endeavoring to discover who it was. The lisguised man faltered for a second before the ook of the condemned, and then hurriedly drew the cap down. A second afterwards and Nolan was struggling in the agonies of death. Struggle after struggle followed each other, until the heart grew sick at witnessing such torture. For five minutes, at least, he must have been conscious, and he did not cease to move for over ten.

THE WATERING PLACES.

A correspondent of the New York Times writes as follows of the personnelle and toil-

Every morning the rural promenades and of the case are peculiar, and show to what an extent the feelings may be wrought upon by that all-powerful sentiment, love. Mr. Eldridge SARATOGA. interested in the competition for preference be-tween the mosquetaire flat of straw and the Clarence hat of straw, with the edge of its brim was a young lady from Cleveland, named Miss prnamented with dangling straw drops. This taste is, at least, questionable; what extent it was reciprocated, we are not able seen in the parlors, on the piazzas in the even-ing, and in the ball-room; and it is a false piece in the pure light of an undivided love, f slander to state that the ladies at Saratoga over-dress. There is no estentatious display his undisquised and open actions indicated. All the full toilettes are fresh, chaste, pretty, but not expensive. The only expense of note to be seen is in the diamonds and other imperishable parure: and this is not a very costly expenditure, to have entered into the flirtation with a keen then you take into consideration that a diamond worth a hundred dollars costs to wear only sev | into a most unmi-takable fit of the blues. He n dollars a year, for diamonds will always bring spent his time in walking the upper deck with heir real value in money. As to the costume of the gentlemen here, it is reany or the beneath gazing into the dark, troubled water gazing into the dark gazing gazing into the dark gazing gazi criticism. The ladies ought to strike against valled the commotion which that worst of all men entering the ball-room and dancing in reg. disappointments—a love derided—had stirred ular groom's toggery. This is the strongest up in mark of English snobbishness that we have seen At n Saratoga.

A letter to the N. Y. "News" says:

In spite of hard times, and despite of the sys tematic attacks of enemies without, and the croaking of timid friends within, the season at Newport for this year promises to be as brilliant and gay as any of its predecessors. It may not rove as long as some, and as highly remuneraive to the hotel keepers as others, but upon the hole I think there will be little call for complaint of a bad business this summer. It is paent that a change has come over the character f the fashionable season at Newport. This change has been gradually coming on for a numper of years, and is marked by a growing regard of comfort and economical expenditure as against the homage to fashion and profusion of outlay in former years. Now it is fashionable to examine the condition of the purse, and be overned thereby; then it was fishion to "d-n the expense," altogether, and the devotees of the fickle goddess dashed ahead as whim might lead, regardless of consequences. The present is the most satisfactory state of things, and Newport is deriving, and has already received substantial benefits from the change. In proportion as vis-itors have become careful, so have the inhabiants grown economical and thrifty. The hotels, which, are considered a kind of hermometer of watering placs prospects, show a good elevation. The arrivals are increasing are that all will be well peopled.

The bathing is extremely fine just now, and the beach presents a most animated appearance every morning. The afternoon drives are really splendid and are improved by every one who can raise a mag. "Fort days" have been innu-gurated at Fort Adams. There is a company of ying artillery now at the Fort, with a few soldiers, recruiting their health. The drive to the Fort is very pleasant and the spot is one of great

Strange to say, these lands are yet cheap, prices ranging from one to five dollars per acre. This arises from the want of labor and capital. It is also worthy observation that the same hands necessary to attend a crop of to socco can also produce much more wheat. orn and other staples than are necessary for their support."

POLICE REGULATIONS IN CUBA .- It appears from Havana papers that the Captain General strength and in extent of domain. has lately issued new orders to facilitate the capture of highway robbers and murders, who have recently been very audacious in the rural districts of the Island. The mode of proceedng is to be as follows:

"Whenever a murder or robbery is committed, the person on whose estate the crime occurs on his plantation bell, at intervals of four minies after the fact and punished accordingly."

Love, Flirtation, Jeniousy and Suicide. [From the Detroit Free Press, 20th.]

A young man named Albert G. Eldridge, a resident of Toledo, committed suicide by jumping overboard from the screw steamer Northern Light, on her last trip down. The circumstances , daughter of a heavy forwarding merut we have nothing to say against the dresses to say, but his attentions were very assiduous most happy in being near it object-at least so Both the morning negliges and went on happily until the return of the boat, zest; so keen, in fact, that her lover was driven his hands in his pockets, sitting with his feet

At Mackinac the party went ashore to inspect the island, and wanted him to accompany them. He moodily refused, saying that he was not wanted. His conduct attracted the attention of everybody on board, which made his poor case worse, for nobody has sympathy with the trouble of a lover, except those who are bound n the same ties. Shortly after entering upon Lake Huron he was accosted by his mistress as he sat by himself on the side of the boat.

She placed her hand upon his shoulder and spoke to him in an enquiring tone. He replied that he had no desire to mingle in the diversions of his companions, but would rather die at once. She replied kindly, desiring him not to speak so, and requested him to come into the cabin .-Instead of complying, he gave her one look, and without a word plunged overboard.

THE AMERICAN REVIVAL.—The London Recorder publishes the following extracts from a letter from Bishop Mclivane, dated New York, May 17, 1858:

"You have probably noticed accounts of the religious awakening in this country-your ideas of its nature will depend very much upon the sources from which your information may have Allow me to say that it is in my view (as is believed more generally than I have ever known before in relation to what are called revivals of religion,) the marvelous work of God; quiet, simple, unexcited, unartificial, unmixed with man's devices, unconnected with human The votaries of Terpischore are numerous at agencies to a very remarkable degree, considerating and they indulge themselves to modeing the variety of minds, of infirmities, of judgration every evening. What is Spain to us that we should interfere The only arguments which we are disposed to consider, after the treatment we have met with from successive Cabinets at Madrid, are those which apply to our own interest and well being. Looking at the question from this point of view, two arguments might be urged, but there i probably no great weight in either. It might be said, in the first place, that it would be short-sighted policy in us to stimulate the progress of the United States in wealth and power, for the time may come when they will prove formidable antagonists to ourselves. but a pairry policy after all; for, whatever we may do, the vast Confederation on the other side of the Atlantic, will go on increasing in you cannot doubt; read also the following:

**THE HAIR —People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those about a finable wirs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still pat onize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request, that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no tuch thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the tinlest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandraff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the lift that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, though some may differ in regard to the ways or doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is at object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—[Woman's Adecoate, Philadelphia. PROF. O. J. WOOD & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Reatorative, I wish to state, that finding my h-ir growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced, from what I read and heared, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles.
